THOMASTON FLOWER GARDENS

Make Possible the Striking Success Of the Garden Club's Annual Show

(BY ROBERT CREIGHTON)

The crowning achievement of its not undistinguished career, the Thomaston Garden Club's annual peony show drew a crowd of about 200 to the vestry of the Congregational Church on Thursday afternoon. Evidence that those present were delighted not only with the unusually beautiful exhibition of peonies, at the height of their glory, but with the program of the afternoon, was not lacking.

Although Peony was king, and the magnificent specimens ranging in color from the deep crimson red of Martin Chahuzac to the faintest of pink made the vestry a bower of beauty, other blossoms from Thomaston gardens were in evidence while handsomely arranged wild flowers, potted house-plants and miniature gardens came in for their share of admiration.
For the first time in the history of this garden club's shows, contests were made a feature, and it must have been no easy task for the judges—Miss Alice C. George, of Thomaston; Mrs. Knott C. Rankin, of the Rockland club and Mrs. Pearl G. Willey, of the Camden club—to choose among the many entries, which were, to the lay mind at least, equally lovely.

Ribbons were awarded as follows, as announced by the club president, Mrs. Richard O. Elliot: Single peony blossoms, blue (first), Miss Edith Wilson's Monsieur Jules Elie; red (second), Mrs. Levi Seavey's Souvenir de Louis Bigot; white (honorable mention), Mrs. Arthur J. Elliot's Mme. Calot.

Arrangement of five stalks in a bouquet: Blue, Mrs. A. J. Elliot's Tausend Schoen climbing roses and syringa; red, Miss Edith Wilson's pink peonies, light blue delphinium and goat's beard spiraea; white, Mrs. Charles Shorey's red peonies.
Decorative bouquets: Blue, Mrs. Mary Wilson Overlock's pink peonies, blue delphinium and spiraea; red, Mrs. Charles A. Creighton's pot-pourri of everything in a June garden, including the rare Phyllis Keldway peony; white, Mrs. Arthur J. Elliot.

Miss Margaret G. Ruggles, chairman of the committee in charge of the show, announced the various numbers on the program. Following Miss Betty Brown's skillful rendering on the piano of a difficult Godard waltz, Miss Rita Creighton Smith gave a delightfully informal and informative talk on iris, the cultivation of which she admitted was her most cherished hobby.

Having been introduced as a member of the American Iris Society, Miss Smith declared modestly that that was not the reason for her being chosen to speak since others in town grew better iris. "It's just that they know they can get me to talk," she said.

She said that it had been suggested to her that iris were an acquired taste. While that might be true, she admitted, she said she knew of no other flower more fascinating or satisfactory after the taste was once acquired. Granting that there were certain drawbacks to iris culture, such as the somewhat unsightly dead blossoms left on stalks, and their lack of value as a commercial cut flower, she cited various reasons why they were dear to her. For instance, theirs is a long season, varieties blooming from early May through July; their colors, though limited to yellow, white and lavender, are infinitely varied in shade.

Raising of iris is simple, Miss Smith said, if certain rules were followed. Bone meal she advised as about the safest of fertilizers, and she warned against letting other plants crowd the iris out. Plant the bulbs close to the surface, clean the plants carefully to avoid iris rot, cut and burn foliage at the end of the season to prevent propagation of the harmful iris borer; were some of her suggestions.

After Miss Smith's talk, a trio, composed of Miss Evangeline Paquin, saxophone; Russell Young, violin, and Miss Eloise Dunn, piano, played several selections.

Among those whose skill and artistic ability was evidenced by the display of miniature gardens, was Master Peter Bulkley, of Beverly, Mass., grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Richard O. Elliot. Peter had two Japanese gardens there. Other exhibitors were Miss Margaret G. Ruggles, Miss Elizabeth Washburn, Mrs. Edward Newcombe, Mrs. William B. D. Gray and Miss Christine Moore.

Some exquisite roses were shown by Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Josie Stone, Mrs. Lawrence Dunn, Mrs. A. J. Elliot, Mrs. Percy Demmons, Mrs. Earl Charles, Mrs. Walter Currier, Mrs. R. O. Elliot, Miss Christine Moore, Miss Rita Smith. It was an exceptionally fine collection, including Talsiman, climbing American Beauty, Tausend Schoen, old fashioned white, Jacqueminot, Mme. Herriot, Chateau de Clos Vougeot and Wilhelm Kordes.

A small admission fee was charged, and the proceeds, some $20 will be added to the fund for the purchase of wrought iron signs at the Warren and Rockland entrances to the town, announcing to the traveler that he is entering Thomaston.

In addition to Miss Ruggles, those directly responsible for the success of the show were Miss Rita Smith, Miss Christine Moore, Mrs. Mary Overlock, Mrs. James E. Creighton, members of the committee. The officers of the club are: Mrs. Richard O. Elliot, president; Mrs. Levi Seavey, vice president; Miss Hortense Wilson, secretary, and Mrs. William J. Tobey, treasurer.

There were visitors from Belfast, Camden, Rockland and Warren, and it was announced during the afternoon that the Belfast Garden Club show would take place on July 7 at the Parish House in that city. Also that the Longfellow Garden Club show in Portland would be on July 8.

Among those contributing blossoms from their gardens were Mrs. May Cottam, Miss Christine Moore, Mrs. J. E. Creighton, Mrs. Nicholas Anzalone, Mrs. Guy Lermond, Mrs. Ellis Copeland, Mrs. Rodney E. Brazier, Miss Mary McPhail, Mrs. Charles Shorey, Mrs. Lawrence Dunn, the Misses Edith and Hortense Wilson, Mrs. Mary W. Overlock, Mrs. Charles A. Creighton, Mrs. Levi Seavey, Miss Ruggles, Mrs. R. O. Elliot, Mrs. A. J. Elliot, Mrs. W. J. Tobey, Mrs. Winfield Brackett, Miss Alice C. George, Miss Lizzie Levensaler, Mrs. Richard E. Dunn, Mrs. John Brown, Miss Margaret Jordan, Mrs. Josie Stone, Mrs. Carl Chaples.

Though so few awards were made, the roving reporter could not help but notice certain other features. Mrs. R. O. Elliot's basket of Walter Faxon peonies was stunning, the flowers being beautiful in color and form and perfectly arranged. In the center of the vestry, Miss Ruggles' arrangement of bird bath and flowers was most effective. The rose-colored pond lilies were raised in her lovely garden as was the pseudoceras iris forming a background. Among the glorioxias was a most unusual pale lavender specimen. It is owned by Mrs. A. D. Davis. One of the handsomest peonies was Mrs. A. J. Elliot's Mme. Calot.

It was a glorious exhibition, all in all, and one to incite one with the desire to take a day off and tour the Thomaston gardens before the peonies once again take their leave.

HAIL! HAIL!! HAIL!!!

High Wind and Torrential Rain Also Featured In Thursday's Storm

This city was visited late Thursday afternoon by a brief but spectacular storm of almost unprecedented intensity. Several trees were blown down, crops, gardens suffered to some extent, the power company crews given a bit of emergency work and many householders taught a lesson about leaving windows open.

The storm started off prosaically enough as a gentle thunder shower preceded by the usual radio disturbance but suddenly turned into a literal cloudburst with roaring hail and torrential rain borne on the breath of furious gusts of wind. Streets were almost instantly rivers of swift moving water littered with small debris from trees and gardens which were completely choked the already overburdened catchbasins. The hail was sufficiently heavy to accumulate in noticeable quantities. Harry Graves and Malcolm Church, Northend boys, gathered a large quantity of hailstones and frozen with cream which they dropped into the newspaper office in his linen coat, soaked through, and bearing a tin pail filled with the crystal hail which he had scooped off his trees. George Wheeler was another visitor, luging a big wooden box full to the brim with the hailstones which he had scooped up near Perry's market, while F. W. Fuller makes a diary entry that on the afternoon of June 30, 1932, he engaged in "snow-balling" with ice drops scooped off the lawn.

A large tree on Park street at High fell carrying several power lines. One of the Court House maples broke off almost burying a parked car, which, however, was not seriously damaged. Limbs were torn from many trees and flower and vegetable gardens badly flattened by wind and hail. It is noted with interest that Camden and Thomaston were not treated to the hail which was the feature of the presentation in this city.

Reminding the public of the increase in postal rates which becomes effective next Wednesday, Postmaster Edward R. Veazie announces that on and after that date letters and other first class mail matter, including that for local delivery at letter-carrier offices and that for delivery and collection by rural carriers at all offices, must carry stamps amounting to three cents for each ounce or fraction thereof.

THREE CENT STAMPS

New Postal Rate Goes Into Effect Wednesday—Things To Remember

Letters in business reply envelopes require three cents postage an ounce or fraction of an ounce, plus one cent additional for each letter, the total being collected from the addressee, who must have special permit.

Airmail must carry eight cents in stamps for the first ounce and 13 cents for each additional ounce or fraction.

There will be no change in the rate on postal cards or private mailing cards nor on letters for local delivery at offices not having letter carrier service. No change will be made either in third class matter or transit second class mail.

Today

This is Merchants' Day, when our many tradespeople acting in co-operation with the American Legion will offer reduced prices on many of the most desirable articles in their stores. Saturday is always a big trading day, but with the inducements offered on this particular occasion it is planned to have so many visitors in our delightful town that cars will be parked as far as the heads of Limerock, Park and Middle streets.

At 7.30 p. m. the fun will start with the appearance of the American Legion Drum Corps. You will recognize the music, but you may not recognize the musicians for they are to be en costume. A miniature Mardi Gras will be staged and the whole city is invited to enter into the spirit of the occasion and be prepared to toss around large quantities of streamers and confetti. If you can dig up some humorous or ridiculous costume, do so, but if you are not so equipped don a mask and let folks guess your identity. Whooop'er up and have the best time you know how.

Sunday

Church services will be along the usual order and the holiday spirit which Independence engenders will doubtless find expression in the sermons preached by the city's capable pastors.

An open handicap golf tournament sponsored by the American Legion will be held all day Sunday for local and visiting golfers at the Rockland Country Club.

The Legion has presented a beautiful silver cup to the winner of the tournament and it will be one of the outstanding features of the weekend celebration. All golfers who wish to enter will please see George Jones, the local "pro," for handicaps.

There will be an exhibition match at 2 p. m., the participants being Art Burke, Manchester C. C.; George Jones, pro; vs. Louis Forte, Samoset pro and Ike Merrill of Camden. The usual daily greens fee of $1.50 will be charged to non-members except in the exhibition match.

In the evening the Rockland Band will give a concert in Post-office square with lively airs appropriate to the holiday on which the hour borders.

Probably nobody will dare touch off any cannon crackers until the midnight hour arrives, for that is the time set for the official beginning of the big celebration.

The American Legion and its drum corps (with visiting drum corps if they have then arrived) will have a short parade, after which it is expected that a big crowd will assemble at Strand Theatre to see the picture of the Sharkey-Schnelling fight which recently brought the world's heavyweight crown back to America, and which has led to such a wide discussion as to whether Sharkey was really entitled to the decision. This picture will be an added feature to a regulation motion picture program.

This rooster will be on the job at daybreak and so will you after listening to the grand salute with which the committee will greet the holiday.

Grand Marshal Basil H. Stinson this morning made public the plans for the Fourth of July parade.

The First Division will form on South Main street, with right of line on Main street, and the Second Division will form on Water street, with right of line on Main street.

The parade will start at 10 a. m. (daylight) moving in the following order: Up Main to Rockland street, up Rockland to North Main, down North Main to Main, down Main to Rankin, up Rankin to Union, down Union to Park street, where the procession will disband. Following is the order of march:

Platoon of Police
Grand Marshal Basil H. Stinson
First Division
E. R. Veazie, Commanding
Rockland City Band
Battalion from S.S. Reuben James Colors
American Legion
Second Division
H. R. Mullen, Commanding
Decorated Floats
Horribles
Drum Corps

The committee in charge of the parade has reasonable assurance that it will contain 56 floats, which should make it one of the longest parades ever seen in Rockland.

The reviewing stand will be located on the David Rubenstein premises, corner of Main street and Talbot avenue. No parking is to be permitted on Union street, between Rankin and Limerock streets.

The Country Club golf links have been placed at the disposal of the destroyer's officers, with complimentary green fees. Sunday night the local reception committee will tender a banquet to the officers at the Country Club.

Immediately following the parade there will be a drum corps contest on Park street near the Gulf Refining Station, with the judges' stand located in front of the Rubenstein store. Cups and cash prizes are expected to attract the State's best organizations to this city.

Athletic events will follow the drum corps contest. The five-mile marathon will start and finish at the corner of Limerock and Main streets.

Athletic contests for children will be held on the Children's Playground on Limerock and Union streets. Young and old are to have their day in court.

Getting now along towards dinner time and let it be known that the city's well known eating establishments are going to be well equipped. One feature, agreed upon, is a dollar shore dinner.

What would Independence Day be without baseball?

Here again the committee is prepared to fill the bill for there will be two games in the Knox County Twilight League, over which the fans are just now so howlingly enthusiastic.

At 1 o'clock sharp Rockland takes on its old rival Camden; and when the smoke has cleared away at 3.30 Rockland will be ready to receive the League's new entry—Waldoboro. Those who saw that remarkable 1 to 0 game with St. George do not need to be told that there is some splendid talent in this league.

The Pine Tree Outboard Motorboat Association will put on a race at Chickawaukie Lake commencing at 12.45 p. m.

There will be a long list of prizes, consisting of one 20-inch cup, donated by the American Legion, to be raced for under the title of "American Legion Trophy." A handsome silver trophy is donated by A. C. McLoon Co. for the winner in the Lockwood class. The Fireproof Garage of Rockland is awarding a 16-inch cup to the winner of the free-for-all race, and in addition to this there will be three 12-inch silver cups for the first prize winners in the special Lockwood Ace class, A and B class. The second and third place prizes are being awarded by the Crie Hardware Co. of Rockland, Central Maine Power Co., Burpee Furniture Co., House Sherman Inc., F. W. Farrel Co., Fuller-Cobb-Davis, Sleeper Bros., R. W. Davis & Son, J. A. Jameson Co., G. A. Lawrence Co., L. W. Benner, and the Texas, Shell, Gulf and Pan-Am Oil Companies. This should certainly make a plenty of inducement for a large number of entries in the actual races.

One of the interesting features of the afternoon will be a relay race. There will also be the championship contest between the Sandy which won the 1930 State championship, and is a world record breaker; and the Dixie Moon which won the 1931 State championship.

Over at Knox Trotting Park commencing at 1.30 p. m. there will be matinee races in three classes, with C. Earle Ludwick as starter. Music and public address announcements are also on the program. Free parking and free grandstand privileges. Depend upon it there will be some good contests.

These starters are announced: Class A—Bob Braden, b.g., Harold Burgess, Rockland; Direct Patchen, b.g.; Frank Butler, Rockland; Shade Lanesilk, ch.g., Henry Carleton, Rockport.

Class B.—Beth Harvester, b.m., Frank Donohue, Rockland; Miss Frisco Watts, b.m., Henry Jordan, Rockland; Calumet Butterfly, b.m., Frank Butler; Calumet Bassett, b.g., Fred Carini, Rockland.

There will be fistic fireworks at Community Park at 7.30 p. m., sponsored by the Legion, as a part of its celebration.

The main bout will feature Cy-clone Sawyer of Bath, who knocked out Charles Neary of Lowell in the main bout of the Yankee Division show in Portland vs. Billy Nevins, young Bostonian, who has 11 winnings to his credit, and who defeated Sawyer a few weeks ago in one of the best bouts of the season.

The semi-final set piece presents Bud Fisher of Rockland in a sparkling altercation with Johnny Wilson of Bath. The local fans know Bud's calibre and they know that Wilson must be some steeper if he ever climbs back through the ropes with the decision.

The committee offers as preliminaries: Roland Sukeforth of Rockland vs. Eddie Garvin of Bath; Al Wilson of Rockland vs. Young Racine of Brunswick; and Blackie Levesque of Brunswick vs. Young Hooper of Rockland.

After the boxing show is over the 10,000 or more holidayites will assemble in the vicinity of the Elks Home to view the fine fireworks display.

Where are you going the Fourth? There's only one answer, of course!

JULY THE FOURTH
Breathes there the man with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said:
"This is my own, my native land?"
Whose heart hath beat no true and clean
As home his footsteps he hath turned
From wandering on a foreign strand?

If such there breathe, go mark him well:
For him no minstrel raptures swell:
High though his titles, proud his name,
Boundless his wealth as wish can claim,
Despite those titles, power and pelf,
The wretch concentred all in self,
Living, shall forfeit fair renown,
And doubly dying, shall no down
To the vile dust from whence he sprung,
Unwept, unhonored, and unsung.

HALE LENT A HAND

Word which came Thursday that the naval department had declined to send a warship to grace Rockland's July 4th celebration, sent a cold chill down the Legion's spine, for the boys had confidently counted upon that picturesque addition to their program. However, there is in Washington a staunch friend of the Legion boys—Senator Frederick Hale, no less, chairman of the committee on naval affairs, and to that gentleman a telegram was addressed, setting forth the disappointment of the Winslow-Holbrook Post and expressing the hope that something might be done about it. Before the day was over came this message:

Admiral Pratt informs me that Destroyer Reuben James will be sent to Rockland for July Fourth, Lieutenant C. B. White commanding. Frederick Hale

If the Senator could have heard the cheers that greeted the arrival of his message, not alone from the Legion, but also from the citizens generally, who are supporting the boys in their ambition to make this occasion notable, he would be satisfied that his good offices in the connection are being welcomed with warm appreciation.

MONDAY THE GREAT DAY

Given fair skies, we can look forward to Monday presenting one of the most satisfactory observances of Independence Day that Rockland ever has sponsored. Naturally we name the city in the connection, but actually it is to the American Legion that credit should fall for its ambitious putting into action the program details. It will be a day to remember and we shall expect to see our streets thronged with visitors from the whole round-about region, gathered to participate in the celebration.

BELFAST'S EXPERIENCE

What the city management form of government has done for Belfast, as related by Hon. Clyde R. Chapman, mayor of our up-the-bay neighbor, speaking to the Rotary Club yesterday, presented in such satisfactory light the operation of that municipal system, as could not fail to impress his hearers with the efficiency of it, as compared with the old-fashioned partisan politics methods under which the cities and towns of New England have for generations labored and groaned. One can not deny there remains something to be said upon both sides. In the case of Belfast, the people were resolved upon a change out of the costly old podagry system that yearly was increasing the taxes, and they were fortunate in their choice of a manager. In not every instance that has come to our notice has the city management system functioned with one hundred per cent of satisfaction, but in the case of Belfast, as its mayor told the story, the success has been so conclusive as that the picture made an agreeable impression upon that group of Rockland's tax-paying citizens who listened to his clear, intelligent and convincing narrative.

GIRLS AND THE CIGARET

It is a fact not without significance that physicians who have made investigation of the subject coincide in the opinion that cigarette smoking by girls and women is accompanied by results that are in the highest sense detrimental to health. Let us quote one of them, Dr. R. Hofstadter of France, a distinguished member of the profession:

"The use of cigarettes" (he declares) "is damaging the facial beauty of women. The features become sharper, the corners of the lips prematurely wrinkle, the lower lip sticks out farther than the upper, and thickens, the lips lose their natural color and become pale, and later they grow a moustache. Twenty-seven percent of the women in hospitals and asylums have both beard and moustache."

There are much worse things than these presented by official reports that deal with the subject, touching upon the fundamentals of health. But the saddest thing, which holds over all these scare details, is the picture the girl presents with a cigarette between lips fashioned for pretty speech and the sealing of the vows of love. Somehow the beholder feels that she has stepped down from the pedestal upon which in all time the masculine sex has been proud to enthrone her.

PROVED HIS METTLE

Mayor Chapman Endorsed
City Manager — Rotary's
New President

Mell E. Wotton assumed his office as president of the Rockland Rotary Club at yesterday's meeting under most auspicious circumstances. The music had a holiday vigor. Mayor Clyde R. Chapman of Belfast, the speaker, was in fine form, the air was blue with smoke from congratulatory cigars and the new fellowship committee headed by Walter C. Ladd in person, distinguished itself by a stellar performance.

Mayor Chapman is an enthusiast for the city manager form of government due to its extraordinary success in his city, and he imparted so much of his spirit to his hearers that the open forum continued long after the meeting's adjournment. It was a layman's story he presented, the story of city management shorn of its technicalities and burdensome detail.

Prior to the advent of Belfast's city management charter that city had followed the rosy path of laissez faire in common with a majority of cities in the country. With a valuation of four millions its bonded indebtedness was $500,000 which was much in excess of the legal limit. Too, it was carrying an excess burden of $48,000 in temporary loans, this latter clearly unlawful. The city was harassed with that pleasant form of political patronage which adds enormously to the overhead expense of most cities.

These conditions left the citizens ready for any change which promised relief and took only a minimum of educational effort to sell the city manager charter idea to a large majority of the voters.

Under the new plan the mayor and five councillors, elected for a two-year term, serve without pay. The school committee, also elected by wards, serves without pay. A completely non-partisan ballot is used. The manager is under orders to extend no privileges to any citizen, mayor and councillors included. The present manager, H. D. Eckler, has given entire satisfaction and has worked a number of highly gratifying economies in several departments. In one year the temporary loan burden was entirely removed and the city's financial improvement has been steady in spite of a fall in valuation to $3,000,000. The tax rate under city management tells an interesting story. The first year the rate was boosted to 62 mills from 48. The second year it was dropped to 55 and the present year finds it at 51. It is the opinion of Mayor Chapman that these economies could have been effected under the old system but, in all probability, never would have. It is the business of the manager to study improvements and economies. The weakness of the old system was not due to any personal dishonesty but merely the laxity of the system.

Jim Duncan of Belfast, I. R. Cutler of Oldtown and Dr. E. A. Farrington of Haddonfield, N. J. were visiting Rotarians. Oscar Wiseman and Holger Struckman were guests.

POLITICAL GOSSIP

Letters and telegrams of congratulations continue to be received in the offices of Burleigh Martin, successful candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Maine at Monday's party primary election, Tuesday, and included was a letter from Lewis O. Barrows of Newport, the runner-up in the primary race, who felicitated the Augusta man and gave his assurance of support in the campaign preceding the September election.

Alfred E. Ames of Machias also wrote his congratulations and assured the party nominee that he would give him his wholehearted support next September.

Another contestant who approved the voters' choice was Frank W. Carlton of Woolwich, who telephoned his personal congratulations and told Mr. Martin that he could count on his active support.

In addition to being highly pleased by the showing in his home city, where he carried every ward by wide margins, Mr. Martin stated that he is "extremely gratified by the fact that the support that was given me came from every section of the State and was in no way sectional," and added the comment that "It had been a pleasant campaign and one that has not been marred by any ill will or personalities."

James B. Perkins of Boothbay Harbor, who ran fourth in his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor, is not enthusiastic over the primary system of nomination. Mr. Perkins discussed the candidacies in both parties and, particularly those on the Republican side, referring in one instance to an individual who reached a sizeable vote although not sufficient to win him the nomination, as "an illustration of the inequities of the primary."

Mr. Perkins appeared contented with the result although perhaps not wholly pleased.

ABOUT THIS TAX BUSINESS

It is highly desirable that all telephone users fully understand the new Federal telephone tax—which conversely are taxed; and, equally important, which conversations are not taxed.

Conversations for which our charge is less than 50 cents—and these, of course, form the great majority of all telephone talks—are not taxed at all.

If our charge is 50 cents or more, and less than $1.00 the Federal tax is 10 cents.

If our charge is $1.00 or more, and less than $2.00, the Federal tax is 15 cents.

If our charge is $2.00 or more the Federal tax is 20 cents. There is no higher tax.

These taxes have been in force since June 21, 1932. This company is charged by law with the duty of collecting them, and will add them to its service bills.

New York Despatch Says That Bartlett Syndicate Would Include It In Holdings

Negotiations are being made for the Georges River Woolen Mills in Warren, to be one of the holdings of a syndicate, according to the Boston News Bureau of June 29, which published the following despatch:

"A syndicate headed by Raymond S. Bartlett, of Raymond S. Bartlett Associates and erstwhile general manager of the American Woolen Co., and still later general manager of the New England Woolen & Worsted Mills Co., is buying mills in New England. Already, the Lebanon, N. H., mills of Carter & Rogers, the Georges River Woolen Mills, Warren, Me., and the Oxford, Mass., mills of Andrew Howarth & Sons, have been negotiated for, and the Devonshire Mills at Goff Falls, N. H., have been inspected and analyzed with a view to purchase.

"These mills manufacture both men's wear and women's wear fabrics and the women's wear product will be sold through the Glenarry Mills of 450 Seventh avenue, New York.

"A selling agency to handle the men's wear product will be set up and will be headed by Alexander Walker, formerly head of Strong Hewat & Co.

"Other mills will be inspected and absorbed from time to time."

Waldoboro Pulls the Leaders Out Of Perfect Percentage—Last Night's Seesaw

Next Week's Games
Monday—Thomaston at St. George, a double-header. Camden at Waldoboro at 9:30. Rockland and Camden (in Rockland) at 1. Waldoboro at Rockland at 3:30.

Wednesday—Thomaston at Rockland.
Thursday—St. George at Thomaston.
Friday—Rockland at Camden.
Saturday—Thomaston at Waldoboro.

Today's game, Camden at St. George at 4 p. m.

E. A. Morin is the third member of the executive board of the Camden Twilight League team.

Despite its upset in Waldoboro Thursday night Rockland leads the League by half a game, while Waldoboro finds itself in a tie with St. George for second place. The standings:

	W	L	P.C.
Rockland	3	1	.750
St. George	2	1	.666
Waldoboro	2	1	.666
Camden	1	2	.333
Thomaston	0	3	.000

An enthusiastic home crowd saw Waldoboro win a decisive victory over Rockland Thursday night. Wotton, minus his usual effectiveness, because of a very lame arm, and handicapped by two very sad errors, allowed Waldoboro five runs in 2-2-3 innings, while Chummy Gray, not fully recovered from the strain of his wonderful pitching against St. George, was found for six hits. Only one strikeout was recorded against the opposing team.

In the third inning Rockland emerged from a somewhat lethargic condition and made a savage attack upon Bill Carleton, the veteran Waldoboro hurler, Dimick and Oney making successive doubles and Cottrell, Wotton, McPhee and Chaples made successive singles. With the exception of the seventh inning, when Cottrell and Wotton again made successive hits, the former scoring on McPhee's sacrifice fly, Rockland made a savage attack upon Bill Carleton, the veteran Waldoboro hurler, Dimick and Oney making successive doubles and Cottrell, Wotton, McPhee and Chaples made successive singles. WEATHER

Not counting the fireworks Thursday afternoon June was a pretty good month as regards weather, in fact people found fault because it was too pleasant. July started with a fine day yesterday, 75 at noon, wind west. There was thunder and rain in the night and this morning fog is thick, but the weather report predicts clearing and cooler late today, fair tomorrow. Wind is southwest, temperature 65 at 8 o'clock.

The local markets are offering plenty of excellent native strawberries.

Dr. F. E. Follett's new office at 427 Main street now has telephone connection, 493-J.

Wiscasset has decided to have its annual Open Houses days this year during the week of Aug. 21.

Out of town visitors who are still on standard time should remember that the holiday events in this city are all on daylight time.

Rev. Dr. Everett C. Herrick will occupy the pulpit of the First Baptist Church in Camden Sunday morning. Richard McKinney will sing.

Baseball fans seeking good sport this afternoon should journey to St. George where Camden has high hopes of doing what Rockland did.

The board of visitors to the State Prison, named by Gov. Gardner Thursday includes Obadiah Gardner and Laforest A. Thurston of Rockland and Dr. H. H. Plumer of Union.

The Beaver Camp girls arrived Thursday, the Mars Hill girls yesterday and the Alford's Lake campers are due next Tuesday—by which time lovely femininity will be holding full sway up around Union and Hope.

Miss Elizabeth E. Hall, formerly of this city, received a second, a Master of Arts, degree from Radcliffe College at the recent commencement. Her work at Radcliffe has been chiefly in the latest Shakespearean fields of research.

When Charles M. Lawry departed for Fort Williams with Battery E this morning he was embarking on his first vacation in 18 years. Everybody wishes him a happy one, but all are wondering what the poor old weather is going to do without him to keep tabs on it.

Legionnaires who take part in tonight's parade with the Drum and Bugle Corps should wear their oldest clothes. It's a Mardi Gras affair, you know, and everybody is out for a good time. After the parade there will be a committee meeting to which all Legionnaires are invited.

Walter Gay, who has just completed his freshman year at Bates College will spend the summer at Hatched Mt. Camp in Hope, employed as counselor. Wallace Mason has arrived from Leominster, Mass., and will spend his sixth season at the Hatched Mt. Camp. Cobb Peterson is at this camp, and Clarence Peterson, now visiting in Old Town, will join the happy campers early next week. Master John Knight will spend the summer at the Camp, going there next Wednesday. Webb Potts of Philadelphia has arrived at the Camp. His mother, Mrs. Charles William Potts is spending the summer at the Samoset.

Through error it was stated in our advertisement in the Thursday issue of The Courier-Gazette that the clothes hampers in the Saturday 10-11 o'clock sale were $81 with an additional hamper for ten cents. The price is $81 straight. Fuller-Cobb-Davis—adv.

Warship Coming Here For The Holiday

One of Uncle Sam's Torpedo Boat Destroyers

Rockland will have a warship for its Fourth of July celebration, after all.

Hope had practically been abandoned Thursday when, as a final resort the following telegram was sent to Senator Hale:

Hon. Frederick Hale,
U. S. Senate,
Washington, D. C.

Our American Legion boys who are sponsoring a big Fourth of July celebration were greatly disappointed that their request for a destroyer was denied. They read in today's news that at a moment's notice Eastport is to get a destroyer. Can't something be done for Rockland? The boys would be grateful for your help.

W. T. Cobb,
Fred W. Wight,
W. O. Fuller.

Disposition of warships for the holiday had been made long before the first Rockland request was received, but Senator Hale's influence as chairman of the committee on Naval Affairs was brought into play, and early Thursday night he wired that the torpedo boat destroyer Reuben James had been ordered here to aid in the celebration. The ship will be open to the public and will doubtless have many visitors, as there will be a big crowd here from the inland towns. It is quite likely that athletes from the warship will take part in the various events, especially the boxing exhibition.

At the meeting of Edwin Libby Relief Corps Thursday night it was voted to hold a strawberry festival Thursday evening, at 6 o'clock, when a delicious repast will be served under the chairmanship of Mrs. Maud Cables. There will be initiation at this, the last official meeting of the season.

BIG CIRCUS COMING

The Sells-Floto Circus will exhibit in Rockland Thursday, July 21. It is said to be the second largest circus in existence, and 39 railroad cars will be required to transport it to Rockland.

John G. Snow has moved into the R. S. Sherman house on Grove street—Carl H. Sonntag has moved to Shaw avenue where he occupies the residence recently vacated by Ralph H. Hanscom—Samuel Levy has moved from the Bickford house on Grove street into the Arthur Lawrence house on Beech street.

That bright-eyed children see the beautiful things was evidenced yesterday by the two handsome butterflies brought to the desk of the butterfly editor—one by Madeline Phillips and Norma Phillips, and one by Marion Freeman and Esther Shapiro. Both of the moths were promptly liberated, and not at all harmed by their brief captivity.

Nine boys leave Rockland today to attend the Citizens Military Training Camp at Fort McKinley. The group comprises Lawrence Pike, Kenneth Orcutt, Clinton Pickett (second season) Fletcher Brown, Horace Booth, Nelson Rokes, Edward Palmer, Crosby Ludwick, Stanley Gay and Kenneth Dailey. The tour of camp duty lasts one month, and the Rockland delegation is looking forward to it with keen interest.

The rehearsal of the Rockland unit of the massed chorus for Chapman Day, July 23, at Eastern Music Camp, held Thursday evening in the Congregational vestry brought out a large number, with several new singers joining the ranks. Sopranos are still needed. K. B. Crie is acting as chairman of transportation. There will be a rehearsal each Thursday night prior to the event, at 8 o'clock in the Congregational vestry.

Many members of the Rockland Garden Club attended the annual flower show of the Thomaston Garden Club Thursday afternoon in the Congregational vestry. Mrs. K. C. Rankin being one of the judges of peonies. Among the 200 persons who attended were representatives of the Garden Clubs of Rockland, Camden, Belfast, Warren and Farmington. The exhibits were of great beauty, particularly the many varieties of peonies. Miss Rita Smith gave a very comprehensive talk on irises, and a musical program featured piano solos by Betty Brown, and instrumental trios by Evangeline Paquin, Eloise Dunn and Roscoe Young.

Weather predictions, as given out by Sam Morrill of Lewiston, seem to indicate a warm month during July, with the temperature and precipitation at normal to above normal. The warmest part to be the second and third weeks. During the first half there will be severe electrical storms. In all events, there will be three storm periods, the first from the 1st to the 6th; the second from the 12th to the 18th; and the third, which will be the worst of the three if there is any difference, will be from the 24th to the 30th. According to predictions, the period from the 6th to the end of the month will see more or less sudden changes in the temperature and weather. The month is to come in fair and warm and to go out showery. Mr. Morrill has set aside the first week as the earthquake period. He also predicts good weather for the State fair in September.

Frank E. Poland and his Medomak Camp boys have arrived in Washington.

Barbara Kennedy won the drum at Packard's Store at The Highlands by saving the most wrappers from a well known product.

There will be services at the South Hope Church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and it is expected that a goodly number of Rockland people will join in worship.

Islesboro is rufus over the fact that there will be no visitation this season from either the Eastern or Boston Yacht Club. It has been announced that neither fleet will cruise this summer.

Because of the big parade and many other events there will be no Twilight League baseball game in Rockland Fourth of July morning. Instead there will be a double-header in the afternoon, Camden playing here at 1 o'clock and Waldoboro at 3:30. These games are well worth seeing, and the Park should be crowded.

At the recent State convention of the American Legion and Auxiliary in Houlton, Mrs. Susie Lamb of this city was elected vice president of the Second District of the Auxiliary, and Mrs. Ann Snow as delegate to the National convention in Portland, Ore., in October. Mrs. Lamb's election is greeted with satisfaction, as her services on the rehabilitation committee have merited more than passing mention.

Miss Corbett is anxious to get hold of some household furnishings for a family she is very anxious to assist. Such articles as chairs, table, curtains, dishes, beds (not mattresses). This family Miss Corbett is very much interested in and any article of household furniture will be much appreciated. Phone between 9 and 10 a. m., or 3 and 4 p. m.—683-W. Articles may be left at the new city store on Spring street.

Howard Rollins and Oliver Rollins of Watertown, Mass., are home for the holidays.

Eight sleeping cars on the morning train into Rockland today. Who said nobody was coming to Maine this summer?

Grant Davis, Rankin street, celebrated his 11th birthday this week by accidentally firing a blank pistol into his left hand yesterday, necessitating hospital treatment.

Ernest Balcomb is down from Massachusetts on his annual vacation, which he wouldn't think of spending elsewhere than in Rockland. He is accompanied by Mrs. Balcomb.

Mrs. Harold W. Philbrook, daughter Florence and son Roland are spending a week's vacation with relatives in New Bedford and Lynn. Mrs. Lucia Ames who accompanied them will stay in New Bedford for the summer with her daughter Mrs. Helen Starrett.

Another very interesting chorus rehearsal was held in the Congregational vestry Thursday evening. The attendance was even larger than the week before, with many new voices. Several singers coming from out of town. Next Thursday it is hoped that there will be many more as Knox County should be represented at the Chapman Day Concert, July 23, by a chorus of at least 100 voices.

The recent item anent the Community Sweet Shop fireplace failed to take into account the fact that the designer and builder was W. L. Clark of Rockport, who had few if any superiors in that line of masonry. Mr. Clark, unfortunately, is now and has for a long time been an invalid. He will be recalled as an especially clever writer of satire, whose letters in The Courier-Gazette from time to time were read with so much interest.

The Democratic repeal platform may be responsible, or it may be that Nature got tired of "holding out," but whatever the cause it is certain that Rockland has had rain enough this week to suit the dryest farm. Cyclone, hailstorm, two deluges, thunder and lightning have constituted a strenuous five-course weather menu, and the transition from June to July is going to furnish interesting entries for those who are still faithfully attending to the year's diary.

SERMONETTE

Moving On

Despite the suffering and misery in the world confusion of today, great forces are at work liberating the best impulses of humanity from the prison houses of age-old prejudices and narrow provincialism. The radio is an instrument of that dynamic force which Christ declared was to build his kingdom—the heaven. On a single Sunday by this miracle force one hears broadcast from London the story of the new Hebrew University in Palestine, with the expressed hope of the founders, that it will help in leavening misunderstanding between Jews and Arabs in the process of the educational and health uplift of this old gateway into Europe, Asia and Africa. From the air came the familiar voices of two personal friends, Dr. Cadman in New York, and the Archbishop of St. Paul, John Gregory Murray, Protestant and Catholic, lifting up the Cross of their common Saviour.

In the realm of music the great artists of today are giving their service for the needy musicians overtaken in these days of misfortune. From twelve hundred miles at sea comes the voice of Giuseppe De Luca and from New York the songs of Grace Moore, Lily Pons, Werrenrath, Gigli, and the best loved woman in the world, Madame Schumann-Heink. Welcome friends in every home, even though they do not know of our existence.

A new era is in the making and God is shaping events to His purposes. The heaven in the meal of the kingdom.

W. A. Holman.

Midweek service Tuesday at 7:15.

"God the ruler of men and nations," will be the subject of the morning sermon at the Littlefield Memorial Church, Rev. L. G. Perry, pastor, is preaching. The guest soloist will be Miss Marion Modricker of the Boston Bible School. Junior church will meet at 10:30 under the leadership of Miss Olive Bragg; Sunday school at 11:45 with classes for all ages. The B.Y.P.U. will be discontinued for the summer months. (Just 65 minutes long). Everybody's big sing, and special music, entitled "The Valley of Shadow," and "His Hand Is Leading Me." Harkness. PARK THEATRE

Straight from the shoulder, Hollywood strikes at the exasperating phenomenon of comment in modern journalism with "Is My Face Red?" a production that dramatizes column conductors. A swift-moving drama, sparkling with wit and excitement, it is faultlessly presented by a brilliant cast, which includes Helen Twelvetrees, Ricardo Cortez, Jill Esmond, Robert Armstrong, Arline Judge and Zasu Pitts. In keen, incisive fashion, the film puts the "master mind" who rattles family skeletons on the "spot," tears him from his pedestal and topples him into the pit of his own career. His career is woven into a scintillating story which holds breathless interest and builds its suspense up to a smashing conclusion. The picture will be shown Monday and Tuesday.—adv.

STRAND THEATRE

Charged with intimate drama and laid in New York's colorful background, a new and powerful film written by Fannie Hurst, comes Monday and Tuesday. The picture is "Symphony of Six Million," co-starring Ricardo Cortez and Irene Dunne in a sublime romance of self-sacrifice and love. The film truthfully reflects the stern background East Side and takes a clinical interest in the lives of a Ghetto doctor and a teacher of the slums. The film is replete with vivid sets of East Side streets, hospital operating rooms and the fire clinics which minister to the ailments of the unfortunate poor of a big city. Ricardo Cortez, who plays the role of the doctor, is seen in a sympathetic characterization for the first time in four years. The suave villain of the screen is transformed into an idealistic type.—adv.

IS IT FIT TO EAT?

Apparatus Invented By Professor Will Determine the Quality of Lobsters

Dr. David L. Belding of the staff of the Evans Memorial of the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital and professor of pathology and bacteriology at the Boston University Medical School, has devised a simple electric mechanism as a means of determining the condition of lobsters destined to reach the tables of the Bay State as food.

With the aid of Dr. Belding's apparatus it will be possible to determine if a lobster is fit for food. The test is made by applying two electrodes to the lobster's abdomen, where there is a long narrow nerve trunk.

A key is then pressed and a make-and-break device sends a series of electric shocks through the muscles and nerves. If the muscle and nerve of the lobster are in good condition, an immediate response is indicated by a sharp contraction of the lobster's tail and by the delicate movements of the small flippers or swimmerettes.

Lobsters that have been dead too long and are unfit for food will show no muscular reaction to the test and as such are condemned as unfit.

The device is composed of two induction coils, a single dry battery, a make-and-break key and two electrodes. The method of making this test is so free of complications that the fish inspectors who made it were able after a single demonstration to apply it and decide instantly if the lobster was fit or unfit for food consumption.

The announcement of Dr. Belding's researches into the lobster industry was made by Director Raymond J. Kenney of the Division of Fisheries and Game. At the same time Director Kenney outlined the method and the apparatus by which a corps of State inspectors under the direction of Arthur L. Millett, State inspector of fish, will in the future pass on uncooked lobsters that are used for consumption in this State.

Dr. Belding and Inspector Millett, in their study of the subject, applied the test to hundreds of uncooked lobsters, ranging from strong, vigorous ones just taken from the water, to those that were known to have been dead for several days. The average length of time a positive reaction was obtained after death was 22 hours at an ordinary temperature of 70 degrees and 60 hours at an ice box temperature of 37 degrees.

This space of time, Dr. Belding pointed out, gives ample time for reputable dealers to make legitimate use of lobsters which are in a weakened condition or show signs of inertia, without in any way placing upon the market an inferior or unwholesome article of food.

Dr. Belding's experiments proved that as long as the muscle and nerve of the lobster showed a response to the electrical stimulation, no significant deterioration of the muscle cells had taken place. The point where the response to the current ceased, he found, precedes the beginning of the deterioration following death of the lobster, and established a standard by which determination of their fitness for food could be set.—Boston Globe.

A BIRD REFUGE

Senate Passes Bill Authorizing Use of Widows Island For That Purpose

Here is what Congress actually did in regard to the bird refuge at Widows Island.

The Senate proceeded to consider the bill (S. 1863) to authorize and direct the transfer of Widows Island, Me., by the Secretary of the Navy to the Secretary of Agriculture for administration as a migratory-bird refuge, which had been reported from the Committee on Agriculture and Forestry with an amendment to add at the end of the bill a new paragraph, so as to make the bill read:

Be it enacted, etc. That the Secretary of the Navy is hereby authorized and directed to transfer to the Secretary of Agriculture all of Widows Island, located in latitude 44° 7' 46" north, and longitude 68° 49' 54" west, about 2½ miles east of North Haven Me., in Fox Island Thoroughfare, and about one-fourth mile south of Goose Rocks Light in the State of Maine, containing 12 acres more or less, together with all improvements thereon, to be maintained and administered as a migratory-bird refuge; and the Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to remove or dispose of as surplus property any buildings thereon, which in his opinion are not necessary for said refuge uses.

The amendment was agreed to. The bill was ordered to be engrossed for a third reading, read the third time, and passed.

THOSE AUTO SPOTS

Our State Entomologist Says They're Caused By Secretion From Plant Lice

If all the progeny from a single plant louse egg survived there would be a family of more than one billion individuals, Dr. H. P. Pierson, state entomologist said Monday in a statement calling attention to the "alarming increase" of the insects in all sections of the state.

It is not at all uncommon for plant lice to create a new generation every ten days, he said and their eggs hatch so quickly that sometimes they hatch before they are laid.

And, to enlighten motorists who have been blaming poison spray for all those spots on their automobiles, Dr. Pierson said the spots are caused by a waxy secretion given off by plant lice. This secretion, known as honey dew—a favorite and food—often falls so heavily it sounds like rain, but it does no particular harm to automobile paint as it is soluble in water Dr. Pierson said.

He described plant lice "as among the most interesting and at the same time injurious insects we have." They feed entirely upon plant juices.

It was necessary to have all those wools in Wall Street in order to catch the poor suckers.—Ohio State Journal.

You can't fool the "Electric Ear..."

New TYDOL wins anti-knock road Test of 17 gasolines

Test car with analyzer and sound recording units. . . Equipment truck of the Western Electric Company. . . ready to test 17 gasolines bought in the open market.

* ELECTRIC EAR KNOCK CHART

"ELECTRIC EAR" is the popular name for the new and amazingly accurate instruments which record sound in decibels. The "Electric Ear" was perfected by the Electrical Research Products, Inc. These same super-sensitive instruments were used by the Noise Abatement Commissions of America's leading cities.

A DECIBEL is an engineering unit denoting volume and intensity of sound. In these tests, lowest decibel rating (new Tydol) indicates best anti-knock gasoline.

A HOT engine, a heavy load, a steep hill—there's the real test of anti-knock quality. Laboratory knock ratings are apt to go hay-wire under these real road conditions—as every motorist knows.

So the new Sound Meter—the "Electric Ear" of the Electrical Research engineers—made this amazing test on the road, the first of its kind.

It caught every knock in each of 17 gasolines—all non-ethyl gasolines, all bought in the open market from road-side stations. It registered that knock. Hour after hour, for 3 days, the "Electric Ear" checked and triple-checked every gasoline.

Same car. Same load. Same speed. Same grade . . . but what a difference in knock rating! Look at the decibel chart. You'll see where the New TYDOL stands. It heads the list in real anti-knock quality.

The chart doesn't show its speed and pick-up, its instant-starting, its super-power and extra mileage. But your first trial run will show them to you—plainly.

Try it today. Against any gasoline. And get extra-fare transportation at the regular price.
